OUR SCHOOL.

A Visit Shows It To Be In Excellent Running Order.

A News man, not content with being told that "Byington is the whole thing" when it comes to teaching, paid a visit to the Louisa school one morning this week. When he came in sight of the school house his first thought was that he had made a mistake in the day and gone on Saturday. Nobody was in sight. A dozen or more boys were not making cigarettes in the shade of the building, a half dozen or more were not on the fence, and four or five more were not carrying one bucket of water. There was "nothing doing" outside, but the scene inside was busy and inspiring. Every room was full and every teacher was at work, and "work", if eyes and ears are to be trusted, is the battle cry of the teacher and pupil. Because of limited time the visit of the News man was confined to one room, that of Principal Byington. Here the greatest part of one recitation was heard, and no better one could have been made. The instructor was alive and a careful survey by an observer failed to find a careless or inattentive pupil. A subject presented and modeled in this manner can not fail to attract, and so presented and studied it will certainly be mastered by the student.

Conversation with pupils who belong to the other rooms and grades of the Louisa Public Schools, as taught in connection with the Kentucky Normal College, discloses the fact that "work" is the keynote of the educational campaign now carried on in this city. The vim and vigor with which the principal and his assistants are doing the work have inspired the pupils to such an extent that the loudest lot in the primary grade goes at his task with a zeal that augurs well for victory.

The News can assure the people of Louisa that no mistake has been made by the selection of Prof. Byington, and neither was any mistake made in the choice of the other teachers, and it is our duty as parents and citizens to give the school and those connected with it our moral and financial support. There are many strange faces to be seen among the hundreds of pupils now attending school in Louisa. They represent intelligent faces, belonging to honest and intelligent young men and women who are seeking the great educational boon of an education. These young people should be our pride and our charge. Let us try to make the strangers feel at home, to feel that they are among friends.

NOTES

Loitering about the depot and other public places by pupils during school hours is a thing of the past.

Venerable Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. William Borders, of Catlettsville, have been visiting in this city for several days, guests of Mrs. Cynthia Stewart and other relatives. They have been visiting nearly three months in Central Kentucky, giving friends and kinpeople in the Bluegrass the pleasure of their society, and now they are having an enjoyable time in Louisa. Excepting his brother John Mr. Wm. Borders is the eldest of his name in the Sandy Valley. They seemed to have been a long lived race. John Borders is 82. One of the aunts lived to the phenomenal age of 104 years. Mr. Borders has seen six generations of his people—grand mother and father and great grand children. His wife, Sarah Borders, was born in Fluvanna county, Virginia. She saw her great grandmother Mayo, also of Fluvanna county, who died there at the ripe age of 94 years. She was at a sister of the immortal John Hancock, of Declaration of Independence fame and glory. She also saw her grandmother and four great grand children. Mrs. Borders' father was Lewis Mayo. She is in fairly good health, is 75 years old. She is the oldest Mayo in the Sandy Valley.

Mrs. Borders has no living brothers and but one sister, Mrs. Stewart, ten years her junior. Mr. and Mrs. Borders have been married 57 years. All in all this is a wonderful record, and the News is ready to publish a more remarkable one.

Big Mill at Lockhaven.

F. E. Wetmore, of Hickory, Conn., is in Louisa for the purpose of erecting a mill at Lockhaven, just below Ft. Gay, a first-class saw and planing mill plant. The machinery is now on its way to the proposed site, and the work of erection will begin as soon as it arrives. The successful operation of a plant such as Mr. Wetmore will construct requires skillful labor of a high type and this he will bring with him. Much labor of other kinds will be necessary, however, and this will be furnished by the native employees. Mr. Wetmore and family are here and occupying a rooming house in the Yates building, corner of Main and Water streets. He will build a permanent residence at Lockhaven.

Dam No. 3.

The iron for the six new trestles to be used in rebuilding the dam at this place has arrived and the work of riveting together the various parts of the big trestles is underway. The forces engaged consist of two center employees, reinforced by two other workmen. With a favorable stage of water and no mishaps the dam should be in commission not later than the last of October.

Will Be Missed.

John M. Rice has entered upon his duties with the Baker Contract Company in connection with their work at Catlettsburg, and he and Mrs. Rice have left Chapman and taken up residence in the Gate City Hotel, as they will remember "The Forks", as they were frequently and welcome visitors here.

The return of Rev. O. F. Williams to the Louisa charge by the South Methodist conference is in accordance with the wishes of the church membership and of Louisa people in general. His services have been highly satisfactory and the church has prospered under his administration. Rev. H. H. Hewlett's charges are also pleased to have him returned to them. He had a good report of work accomplished last year.

J. C. Thomas, Superintendent for the Evansville Contract Company, is expected here this week to take up the matter of completing the lock at Salyersville. The work on the lock itself was practically finished early this season, and now the only work remaining to be done is putting in the gates, and this will be done by Mr. Thomas.

Remember the dates of the County Fair—Friday and Saturday, the 12th and 13th. Get your products ready for exhibition. A committee of the Business Men's Club is working in conjunction with the officers of the Fair in securing premiums and Lexington. Grief caused by the death of a brother is given as the cause of her insanity.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Redwine's First Session Here Convened Monday.

The regular fall term of the Lawrence Circuit Court began last Monday and will probably continue for the entire term of four weeks. This session of the Court is made significant by marking the first appearance in this county of M. M. Redwine as a Circuit Judge. He was made Judge of this new district by appointment of Governor Heckham, having also served as Commonwealth's Attorney during part of the incumbency of Judge Kluner. Judge Redwine opened Court after the fashion of one to the manner born, and his charge to the grand jury was plain, forcible and comprehensive. He expressed himself in terms not liable to be misunderstood, and the grand jury will probably show by its work that the seed sown by the Judge has brought forth fruit.

The grand jury is composed of the following citizens and housekeepers: John L. Hubbard, foreman, E. L. Wellman, A. M. Blackburn, Jerome Hardwick, John Smith, W. D. Chapman, Henderson Wells, John Dameron, Lindsay Waller, D. D. Harmon, Thomas Christian and George Carter.

After the suspending of the jury some time was given to hearing the reports of various county officers and several equity causes were disposed of. On Tuesday this regular, petit jury was drawn and will serve until discharged. W. A. Lambert, L. A. Garrett, T. T. Thompson, Mordaka Wilson, James Evans, John Fitzpatrick, Sam See, Bill Morris, Hardin Childress, H. J. Shannon, Roy Carter, Bill Belcher, L. C. Carter, P. S. Moore, W. H. Kane, J. T. Shannon, J. A. Adams, John Meek, J. C. Adams, Sam Fausla, R. D. Daniels, (Owly) John Diamond, John Stamp, and Robert Huggles.

During this day's session of the Court the negro Charles Jones charged with assault with intent to rape, confessed and was given three years. Sherman Ramey, charged with forgery also confessed and got two years. He cashed a forged note for $26 at the Bank of Blaine, this county, and Cashier A. S. Conley afterward located and arrested him. His indictment, trial and conviction took place on the same day.

Yesterday was set for the trial of Lee, Smith, Bert and Ira Vanhorn charged with the murder of Sophia Floss at the Sunday School Convention on Bear Creek last July. The trial of Frank Kelly for shooting his own son was also set for yesterday.

Bill Hatfield, indicted for shooting into the house of James Parker, plead guilty and was sent to the penitentiary for one year.

Bill will be remembered as the bird that flew from Deputy Sheriff Glickerson some time ago, but was recaptured.

Attend Services Sunday.

The entire membership of the M. E. Church South is requested to attend services next Sunday morning. In addition to the pleasure and profit of hearing the new preacher there will be other matters presented that it is thought will attract the interest throughout the year. Do not fail to attend.

Board of Stewards.

Under the caption "Plunged From A Liner's Deck" the Cincinnati Enquirer of Sept. 10 tells the story published in the News of Aug. 31 of a young man who leaped from the deck of the Commander Carpathia, and eight hours after was picked up by another steamer alive and uninjured. The NEWS published it in the form of a letter written off the coast of Corral by Judge Evans, father of Mrs. P. S. Bond of this city. The metropolitan papers must get a move on.

Andrew Shannon and Miss Myrtle Peters were married Wednesday of last week at the residence of the bride's parents at Walbridge. The father of the bride, Rev. J. S. Peters, performed the ceremony. An elaborate dinner was served after the wedding and the guests enjoyed the occasion very much. The bride is an exceedingly pretty and attractive young lady. Mr. Shannon is a son of James Shannon, of Catlettsburg, and is a very worthy and promising young man.

Department of Music.

To further add to its equipment and usefulness the Kentucky Normal College, Public School Division, has established a Department of Music. This important auxiliary is in charge of Miss Winifred Hurlburt, formerly of Dallas, Texas. Miss Hurlburt has received a thorough training in music in some of the best schools and by some of the best teachers in the country, and she comes to us as highly recommended as is possible to be. She teaches the piano, guitar and mandolin, and it her ability to teach is commensurate with her skill as a player. It is certainly a very high order. Miss Hurlburt is certainly a well equipped with instruments, having two fine pianos, one of which has been placed in Masonic Hall, for the use of her pupils while practicing and for use on public occasions, and the other is in her studio and is used when giving lessons. Miss Hurlburt's studio, where her pupils are taught, is the comfortable building next to the D. J. Burchett mill, and was once the law office of Mr. R. T. Barnes. She already has a large number of pupils, and has begun her work. The News is informed that in some not very distant day Miss Hurlburt will give recitals which will add to the list of an entertaining and instructive character.

The people of Louisa should place their patronage with Miss Hurlburt. It will help the College and just now as when it needs the full support of all the people. As it grows the demands upon us will be lighter, but at the start it should receive the undivided support of all this community. The department of Education should not be neglected. A certain amount of training in this line is necessary and it has been neglected in Louisa for several years. Miss Stafford is in charge and is entirely competent to do good work.

Wow! An "Incendiary."

In noting that the city expected to establish a crematory for the burning of garbage, the Huntington Herald, under big headlines, says, "City is to soon purchase incendiary." The police ought to arrest the whole gang hanged city if they do and then send the "incendiary" to the jail.

—Ashland Independent.

We presume both these rural roosters have in their minds an incineration plant. "Crematory" is now the name for that Carter county newspaper chap to get back at his Ashland brother.—Big Sandy News.

Go soak your head, Doc. You're about the sleepest old fossil extant Webster defines "Cremate" and "Incineration" thus:

Cremate—To burn... to reduce to ashes by the action of fire, either directly or in an oven or retort, to incinerate or INCINERATE.

Incineration—The act of incinerating, or the state of being incinerated.

CREMATION.—Ashland Independent.

Hub, your past experience in wrestling with dictionaries and grammars doesn't seem to have taught you much discretion, so we'll try another "pill." "Crematory" is the word under discussion, and is variously defined by modern lexicographers and in modern encyclopedias as an apparatus for the burning of a corpse, a plant or building wherein human corpses are cremated. Revise your parts of speech, they need it.

Beware.

Smooth salesmen are again abroad in the Big Sandy Valley selling cooking stoves at $67 cash. They are not worth it because same quality and size of stove can be purchased for less than half the money through almost any local dealer. It is the same way about sewing machines sold at about that price. The people should not be deceived into buying at these exorbitant prices.

The many friends of Frank Smoot and Miss Clara Elizabeth Tanner will be greatly surprised to learn of the marriage at fronton at the parsonage of Spencer church, Rev. Dr. Bishop officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by A. H. Tanner, brother of the bride and many fronton friends and it was simple and impressive. Mr. Smoot is the well-known plumber of Parkersburg and Huntington. Mrs. Smoot is the daughter of Mrs. J. C. Tanner of Parkersburg, and is a very worthy and promising young woman. These persons are relatives in the Twin Branch section.

CONFERENCE

Of the M. E. Church South Makes Appointments for Another Year.

The fifty-third annual session of the Western Virginia Methodist Episcopal Church Conference, South, concluded its labors Monday afternoon and adjourned. The meeting place for next year was left for the committee to report later. Bishop Hendrix, at the close of the conference, read the following list of appointments:

Ashland District.—B. E. Gailing, presiding elder.

Ashland, First church, W. I. Canfield; Centenary church, W. R. Corder.

Allegheny circuit, E. J. Perry, supervising elder.

Blaine circuit, Ivy York.

Laynesville circuit, D. B. Kase.

Liberty circuit, R. F. Rice.

Louisa station, O. F. Williams.

Marlinsburg circuit, T. R. Houghton.

Mt. Zion circuit, A. L. Stamper.

Pikeville station, P. E. Thornburg.

Prestonsburg station, S. H. Anvill.

Conference missionary secretary, W. J. Carter.

Ernest Robinson goes to Charleston. A. Lee Harrett, formerly of Edinburg, the Conference Educational secretary, was sent to Davis and Coke ton circuit. D. H. Reid goes to New Martinsburg. Bernard Spencer was admitted to the Conference and sent to Ft. Gay circuit.

S. A. Donahue was made Educational Secretary. Wayne circuit gets R. S. Hlas. E. C. Switzer goes to Buffalo circuit. Dr. Boland is returned to Point Pleasant. J. A. H. Barrett goes to Summersville circuit and H. M. C. Bud" Smith is continued as Presiding Elder of Sutton District.

Probably the most important action of the annual session, was the action in redistricting the Conference, and changing the names of the districts.

Under the old system, there were six presiding elder's districts, the Clarksville, Parkersburg, Charleston, Fayette, Catlettsburg and Prestonsburg. Of these, one or two were very strong, and one in particular, the Prestonsburg district, was very weak. It was thought that a new apportionment would result in more equitable distribution of wealth and membership, and would, hence, prove much more satisfactory in every respect.

Under the new arrangement, there is no change in the number of districts, although the names and boundaries are changed altogether. The Ashland district is created out of the old Catlettsburg district, and a portion of the Prestonsburg district, and comprises all that part of the conference lying in Kentucky.

The Huntington district is created out of the Charleston and Prestonsburg districts, and includes the southern end of the state, Madison being the most northern appointment. All the appointments along the N. & W. railroad, the Guyandotte river, the C. & O. as far east as, but not including, St. Albans, and north along the H. & O. as far as, but not including Point Pleasant, are included in this district.

Louisa Roller Mills.

The repairs and the installation of new machinery in the Louisa Flour Mills are progressing satisfactorily and the plant will be in operation about Oct. 1st.

A new sifter system is one of the improvements put in. It displaces a large amount of the machinery formerly used and does the work much better. It is the latest improved system.

Also, a 55 horse power gas engine has been purchased and will be put in place within the next ten days.

Contract to Let.

The undersigned will let the contract for building a culvert and fill at See Branch, on Tug River, on Thursday, the 20th of September, 1906. Specifications will be on the ground for examination on the day of Louisa.

ELI MOORE, S. R. & H. By John E. Queen.

From A Louisian.

The News has received from Sam Salyer quite a readable communication written from East Liverpool, Ohio. We infer from Sam's letter that he is on "Easy Street," and as he was always a worthy, popular young fellow his friends, whom he would be glad to hear from, are glad to hear it. He also tells of the success of Charles Salyer, another former resident of this city. He has several contracts as a carpenter and builder and is, apparently, doing well. The News would be glad to publish Sam's letter in its entirety, but our crowded columns forbid.

PERT PARAGRAPHS

Picked Up At Pike, Paint and Prestonsburg.

Ice is selling at one and four cents per pound in Paintsville, and is hard to get at that price.

Benton Manns, a Breathitt county product shipped into Johnson county a couple of weeks ago and stole the 14-year old daughter of Shade Oliver, living on Jennies creek, and took her to Breathitt county. He soon became tired of her and abandoned her. He was arrested and is in jail here, charged with seduction and will get a trip to the penitentiary.

John C. C. Mayo has engaged some core drills and is prospecting for coal on the Doc Aker farm on Millers creek. The hills of Millers creek are full of fine coal, but Mr. Mayo is anxious to ascertain the amount of coal lying beneath. While the result of the search is being kept sui rosa, enough is known to justify the statement that an abundant supply of coal has been found. The drilling has reached a depth of 172 feet.

Dr. P. H. Williams has been tendered and accepted a professorship in the Dental Department of the Ohio University, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Abe and Alf Church, brothers, are in jail charged with assaulting Emanuel Dills with murderous intent, Saturday night. Dills is at his home at Mingo, Johnson county, and his death is feared. The prisoners are being held to await the results of the inquest.—Mingo Rep.

A $2,000 damage suit has been filed against U. S. Marshal Sharp, in the Johnson Circuit Court. The plaintiffs, F. M. and Thomas Layne, Dr. David Osborn, H. C. Osborn and F. S. Turner, alleged they were the owners of the steamboat Laynesville, which was burned at Whitesboro, this county, early in the spring. They allege that an attachment had been levied on the boat by U. S. Marshal and that the boat was in his custody and that by reason of his negligence the boat was burned.

Fairview, the river suburb of Paintsville, is building up rapidly. Judge Kirk and John H. Preston are having a number of neat cottages constructed in that section. The price of property is going up, and soon that section will be crowded with houses.

Meredith Castle, a laborer, met death in a most horrible manner early Monday morning at the Actogen Coal Company's mines below Paintsville, where he was employed. The accident happened while Castle and others were engaged in rifling the heavily loaded bank cars out of the mine down the incline to the main entrance to the mine. Castle was on the front running board of the car, while his companions were standing on the rear. Suddenly, as the cars were speeding along, Castle lost his footing and his body shot down between the cars, directly across the track and was struck by the front trucks and rolled for some distance before the cars could be brought to a standstill. Workmen who had witnessed the accident quickly ran to the scene and, with some difficulty, the body was extricated from beneath the trucks. Death occurred a few hours later.

The unfortunate man was about 18 years of age and lived with his mother, Mrs. Polly Castle, at Fairview, just below town. A brother, George's Creek, was killed near George's Creek about a year ago while drifting logs.

We confidently count on the Republicans of Harrison county to vote almost solidly against Judge Bennett. His "throw down" of Cynthia on the Government building proposition is enough to down him forever in this county. And what he did to Harrison he seems to have done to his friends all over the dis-

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 6.—A lively interest is being taken over the State in the Fifth Development Convention, to meet here October 10, 11 and 12, which is shown by the number of inquiries and letters from prominent business men in different parts of the State relative to the convention, and announcing their intentions of attending. The county judges of the various counties, the Mayors of the cities and the various commercial organizations in the State are rapidly sending in lists of delegates appointed by them. The committee is much encouraged over the responses received and believe that the convention will be big in every way.

The programme for three days of the convention is being arranged and it has been found difficult to crowd in the time allowed the different subjects which it is hoped will be discussed. Several prominent persons have accepted invitations to address the convention. As Kentucky is an agricultural state more prominence will be given to that and its kindred subjects, such as live stock, forestry, State immigration and others. A subject of considerable interest to the development of any state or nation is that of education, and an address is being arranged on the general subject of education, and one on industrial education. Mining, commerce, manufacturing and railroading are also being provided with prominent places on the program.

A feature of much interest last year and one of much practical value was that of the Roll Call of the counties, and the program committee has considered it well to have the same feature this year. And with some changes which it is believed is an improvement on last year. The County Judge of each county has been asked to select as one of the delegates named by him to the convention, a citizen of his county who will prepare a statement to be read at the Roll Call of Counties, setting out answers to the following questions:

1. In what does our county excel?
2. What does your county most need?
3. What is its labor supply, and what wages does such labor command?
4. What factories and other industries have you? Give the capital employed, extent of business, number of employees, and amount paid for wages.

This information given to the convention will be compiled and given much publicity throughout the United States to attract toward Kentucky capital seeking investment.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Libson Red Mills, Lawrence county, N. Y. writes: "I had kidney disease many years and had been treated by physicians 12 years, had taken a well known kidney cure, but got no relief until I began to use Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every 15 minutes, day and night and passed an irksome substance, and sometimes a stinging substance. ### To All Democratic Voters.

If there ever was a time in the history of the Democratic party for the manifestation of loyalty and patriotism on the part of its members, it is right now.

If we are to win a victory and elect a President two years hence, we must first elect a House of Representatives this fall. A Democratic House can and will investigate every department of the Government. With all of them honeycombed by "graft," the edges of which only have been touched by recent exposure and prosecutions, there will be a revelation of rottenness that will astound the country, and create a demand for a Democratic administration to clean the Government workshop.

To win the House we need money to defray legitimate expenses and to defray legitimate expenses and get out our vote. We have no protected monopolies from which to draw to fill our coffers, as they do those of the Republican party. We must, therefore, appeal to loyal Democrats for contributions.

Will you send us $1.00 at once, and in return for this we will send you a copy of our campaign literature issued by the Committee. You will have the thanks of the entire Democratic party for your favorable response to our request.

Review of a Merchant.

A prominent merchant, of Shougo, S. Y., J. A. Johnson, says: "Several years ago I contracted a cough that grew worse and worse until I was hardly able to move around. I coughed constantly and nothing relieved me of my terrible suffering until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Before I had taken half a bottle my cold was much better, and in a short time I was entirely cured. I surely believe it saved my life. It will always be my family medicine for colds." ## TO ABOLISH WRECKS

DEVICES INTENDED TO MAKE RAILROAD TRAVEL SAFER.

Inventions Recently Patented by an Indiana Man Which Are Hoped to Do Away Entirely with Present Despatching System.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Elmer E. Steiner, of Kichistown, has just patented two devices invented by him which he hopes will prevent many railroad accidents and make travel on trains much safer than it is at present.

Steiner's devices do away with the present despatching system and put in its stead an automatic system. He worked for two years on his inventions, and he thinks he has succeeded. He says his system has the following advantages:

It does away with all possibility of rear or head-on collisions, as each train crew knows at any time just where all the others are.

It is security against any train running into an open switch, as the register on each train shows whether the switch be open or closed.

It does away with telegraph operators, thus saving millions in salaries to the companies using it.

The system "cannot go to sleep at the instrument or the switch" and can work 24 hours a day without food, fatigue or pay.

Being purely mechanical, it is infallible, and cannot make a mistake or "misinterpret orders," and even if it could disaster would be impossible.

It does away with the necessity of making stops for any purpose except to take on or discharge passengers or freight.

"With the train reporting system," said Steiner, "a railroad may be equipped at regular intervals of any distance desired with stations in the track bed, each of these stations being connected by circuits of electric wires with the central office. Whenever a train passes over one of the stations it automatically registers the number of the train and the number of the station, so that the central dispatcher can tell at any moment just where any train is.

In addition, every switch on the line is equipped with a station, and the minute a train enters a siding the dispatcher will be notified by it by the automatic register of the number of the train. A switch is always registered open or closed, and if one is inadvertently left open the register will show it, and an approaching train can be advised of it from the central office."

With the intercommunicating system—his second device—attached, there is nothing left to be desired in a system of train despatching. By means of this system the central dispatcher may communicate order to an engineer, conductor or train crew, either while the train is standing still or moving, and in the same manner the crew can answer the orders. The system is so arranged that each train makes a constant circuit with the central office, and each train is constantly in a circuit with every other train on the same division. Thus one train crew can communicate with any other crew, and the register on one train will show just where every other train on the road is at any given time. An engineer can look at the register and tell long before he reaches it if a switch which the train is approaching is open or closed, and he knows at a glance just how far ahead or behind him is any other train, in whichever direction it may be going.

The system would do away entirely with telegraph operators at way stations, so far as delivering and receiving orders are concerned. It would even be possible for trains to run under this system without a despatcher, as each train would know at any time where other trains were located. This, of course, would be impracticable, as it would give free rein to train crews to run too much at will.

Power for the system is furnished by either storage batteries or dynamo. Once installed the system would be inexpensive, as the first cost would be the greatest. It is adaptable to electric roads as well as to steam railroads.

Steiner, who is a rural mail-carrier, first began to think of his invention two years ago when he heard railroad men on a train discuss the problem of railroad accidents and their prevention. He then resolved to use his mechanical talent and ability in that direction, and he hopes that he will soon see the results of his labor in general use.

Increase in Regular Army.
Washington.—The enlisted strength of the army is slightly increased in a general order issued at the war department. The strength of the different branches of the service will be as follows: Total number of enlisted men in cavalry, 12,240; artillery corps, 328; coast artillery, 13,298; and torpedo companies, 627; field artillery, 4,012; infantry, 24,480; engineers, 1,282; additional strength, 1,961, making a total enlistment in the line of the army of 58,128. To this is added for the staff departments 4,387, making a total of 62,515. The increase provides enough men so that each cavalry and infantry regiment may have a detachment of machine-gun experts.

He Was a Relic Hunter.
A man who was arrested for breaking into a house in Berlin made the excuse that he only wanted a pair of shoes belonging to a celebrated Russian pianist who was staying in the house. A collection of woman's shoes, all neatly labeled and catalogued, was found in the room where he lived.

FIFTY CENTS

In some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion is very rapid. For this reason we put up a fifty-cent size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children. In other conditions the gain is slower—health cannot be built up in a day. In such cases Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment, a food rather than a medicine. It's a food for tired and weak digestions.

IN MEMORY.

On last Friday morning our community was startled by the death of one of our Sunday School boys, Millard Maynard, son of Uncle Tom and aunt Jane Maynard, as we all call them. Millard was born January 17, 1880, died Sept. 7, 1906, age 26 years, 7 months and 20 days. While home has lost one of its shining jewels and the vacant chair sits in the hallway. Millard was wearing a starry crown and has filled a vacant place in that beautiful haven of rest. On the night of Sept. 6, while his friends had met and were singing songs to the praise of God Millard called, I am going to heaven, sing Charles's song, "Over the river faces I see", and while they sang he raised his hand to heaven as if he had caught sight of his heavenly vision and his countenance shone with the glory of God.

Father, mother, weep not for your darling boy, but live faithful to the end, and when you lay down this mortal body you can hear the Saviour say, Here is your boy who I have been taking care of for you, enter them into the joys of thy Lord and be with them.

Father, mother, sister, brother, you loved one has gone to that land where the healing waters flow, and flowers celestial glow. He cannot come to you, but you can go to him.

FRIDAY, Sept. 14, 1906.

William J. Bryan spoke to an audience of 12,000 people in the Coliseum at St. Louis, and was given a great ovation.

Delaware Democrats in convention at Dover nominated N. State ticket and endorsed William J. Bryan for President.

Senator Tillman, of North Carolina, may be asked to stump West Virginia this fall by the Democrats of the State, who declare that he could do a great deal of good for the Democratic ticket, because of the letter written to him by Gov. Dawson, Republican, concerning his position on the rate bill.

William T. Cobb, Republican, was re-elected Governor of Maine by a plurality of less than 8,000 over Cyrus W. Davis, Democrat. Congressman Littlefield was re-elected by a greatly reduced plurality.

The officers of the Democratic Congressional Committee are naturally jubilant over the result in the State of Maine. It has been years since the Democrats in the State have come any place near reducing majorities to the figures brought out yesterday. By all it is considered a good omen and will undoubtedly have a important effect of encouraging Democrats into believing they can carry the House.

The Committee on Programme for the Fifth State Development Convention is in receipt of a letter from Lawson Purdy, of New York, accepted an invitation tendered by the committee to deliver an address to the convention on the subject of "The General Property Tax." The address will probably be arranged on the programme to be delivered on Thursday evening, October 11.

Mr. Purdy is secretary of the New York Tax Reform Association, and also secretary of the committee on Taxation of the National Municipal League. He has written much on the subject of taxation, and while his views are advanced, his address will be of great interest and valuable.

Attorney General N. B. Hayes, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, spoke here Tuesday. His entire speech was a very bitter attack on the State administration. It was so rapid, in fact, that we have heard some of the strongest anti-administration men express disapproval of the speech. Some of his statements, based on facts, are unfair because they are made in such a way as to leave the hearer who does not know all the details, with an exaggerated impression of the truth. He says practically nothing for himself. His record as Attorney General is not offered as a plea for his nomination. The impression is created that he doesn't amount to much as Attorney General. The fact that he has persistently refused to attend the meetings of the various important State Boards of which he is a member by virtue of his office brings upon him the criticism that he has not done his duty. He should have been there fighting for the right in those meetings where he says so much wrong was done. The right will prevail in nearly all cases where it has a champion of even mediocre capacity. No set of men will face the fire from a sincere, upright man in authority and commit any very bad deeds, especially when they know publicity is certain to follow.

This is not a defense of the administration. We do not endorse any questionable act they may have committed. This is a plea for fair play. Mr. Hayes must be just and consistent if he would win as a reformer. All his statements must bear the fullest investigation without showing a spirit of injustice.

If Ollie James or some other well-known leader of ability, who is not identified with either of these factions would come into this race depending upon his own merits rather than upon the demerits of others he would win easily and do his party valuable service.

STOLEN GOLD HIDDEN

Sum of $50,000 Taken from Express Car in 1893 by Bandits Among Rocks Near Cripple Creek—Secret of Cache Lost.

Youngstown, O.—Somewhere along the 100 miles of railroad which connects Cripple Creek and Florence, Colo., is cached a fortune in golden eagles. Among the rocks and boulders lies hidden $50,000 in gold, and it is very probable that it will never be found unless some lucky hunter by chance discovers the cache where it is hidden the fortune.

In the summer of 1893 the money was taken from the safe of an express car by six masked train robbers. All of the robbers are now dead, and there is nothing to mark the hiding place of their ill-gotten wealth. The last of the robbers was a man by the name of Marks. On the day which he set to unearth the treasure he died at his office in Cripple Creek from pneumonia. Marks and one other robber were the only men who knew the hiding place of the money. They carried it in canvas bags into the hills along the railroad tracks near the scene of the hold-up and buried it under the rocks, while their four confederates held the trainmen and express messengers at bay with their rifles.

The robbers planned to allow the money to remain hidden for several years, so that there could be no chance of their being discovered in passing it. After the hold-up the six men separated, going to different parts of the country. Marks and the man who had assisted him in burying the gold remained in Cripple Creek together. Each feared the other and they watched each other like hawks to guard against any attempt to obtain the money. After two years had elapsed Marks had become a real estate man and a lawyer. The other man died a year after the hold-up.

The story of the hidden treasure is told by Mayor F. L. Baldwin, of this city, who obtained it from a half-breed Indian named Clark, while he was in Cripple Creek in 1897. No living person knew what had become of the stolen $50,000 at the time Mayor Baldwin obtained the story but Clark.

The robbers had selected the year of 1897 to unearth the money and divide it. They were all to meet in Cripple Creek on May 25, when Marks and the other man who knew the hiding place were to get the gold and there was to be a division. None of the robbers arrived at the meeting point on the day selected. Days passed into weeks, and weeks into months, and the train robbers did not arrive.

Marks was the only living man who knew the hiding place and he knew that none of the other men had obtained the money. He felt that he was being watched by the other four men constantly and he lived in constant terror for months. He believed that the other men must be dead, and in October he decided that he would go and get the fortune himself. He needed someone to help him carry the gold and he told his story to Clark, who was a prospector at that time, reserving the important details and simply giving a general idea of the location of the hidden wealth.

A day was appointed. The men were to meet at the cabin of Marks, who lived alone, early one morning. When the morning came with it came a light fall of snow. Marks feared that they would be followed and could be tracked in the snow. He would not consent to take the chance. His limbs quaked with terror when he seemed so near to obtaining the fortune which had been buried for four years. Clark described his terror as most abject. He thought that every man who looked at him and was a stranger was one of his robber confederates in the hold-up.

Another day was set when Marks and Clark were to go to the cache and obtain the money. It was destined that the robber was not to reap the reward of his four years' vigil over the treasure, for the night before the day appointed when the money was to be unearthed Marks was found in his office dead.

Shortly after Marks' death Clark told the story to Mayor Baldwin, who was at that time in Cripple Creek established as an attorney and enjoying the excitement of the early mining camp. With the death of Marks also passed away the secret of the hiding place of the money, for he left no chart, no papers of any kind by which the fortune could be located, and the gold stolen from the express safe 13 years ago still lies buried among the hills along the Florence & Cripple Creek railway.

Beard Is Eight Feet Long.

Ortonville, Mich.—W. L. Gilles, of this place, is 58 years of age, and it is his proud boast that a razor has not touched his face in 20 years. During all this time his whiskers have continued to grow, and to-day they are a little over eight feet in length, about three feet of his remarkable hair-like adornment resting on the ground when he has his beard unfurled. The whiskers, however, occasion him little inconvenience, as he keeps them done up with hairpins under his chin except on rare occasions. As they are planned in place for him at home and the process is an intricate and difficult one, he never lets his whiskers down outside of his own home circle, not because he isn't proud of the distance they have grown, but for the sake of his own convenience and comfort.

STOMACH IS NO REFRIGERATOR.

Doctor Declares Much Sickness Is Due to Eating Ice Cream.

Lausling, Mich.—Ice cream is considered an excellent food when eaten in limited quantities with other articles of diet, but physicians say it is dangerous when taken in excess, declaring that the human stomach is no refrigerator.

Secretary Shumway, of the state board of health, has just issued a circular which causes cold chills to run down the spines of those who revel in ice cream. He says:

"Not a season passes without a number of incidents occurring of sickness and epidemics, the cause of which is directly traced to eating ice cream."

The principal ways by which the frozen dainties are likely to cause sickness, declares Mr. Shumway, are metallic poisoning, impure flavoring compounds, impure milk or cream, and carelessness in allowing any of the ice, salt or water in the bucket to mix with the cream.

Metallic poisoning is caused by the use of two different metals in the freezer. Many freezers are composed of heavily lined iron. It is recommended that when the tin surface of these freezers is worn off as to expose the iron the freezer be discarded.

The danger of metallic poisoning is also increased by allowing the paddle to remain in the cream, and it is recommended that the paddle be removed immediately when the freezing is completed.

"It is criminal to put into ice cream impure or poisonous flavoring extracts," says the secretary, who declares that this is sometimes done. Many fruit flavors are said to be preserved with formaldehyde or arsenic.

The circular concludes with "However, if some persons are still living to eat and will persist in using ice cream, it is suggested that the cream and flavors should be boiled before being frozen, thus reducing the chances of fermentation and consequent poisoning to the minimum."

KING BOWS AT GIRL'S REQUEST.

London Hears Story Involving American Visitor at Marienbad.

London.—An amusing story is being told here about a letter which awaited King Edward's arrival at Marienbad—one missive of many for the royal person. This letter, as the story goes, was from an American woman, whose name was not signed to it. It put between the lines it appeared, however falsely, that it was written by a near relative of Miss Matilda Townsend. This is a charming young woman whose maternal grandfather was Congressman Scott, of Erie, U. S. A., and her father, Richard Townsend—"one of the Herbertons"—of Philadelphia.

By whomsoever written, the writer asked his majesty that, graciously, he would salute the young woman any morning he changed to be walking near the springs. She wrote that she would never forget such a proof of his favor, and naively she described her personal appearance and the gown she would wear—for identification.

The king was highly amused. He appeared to be on the spot for two mornings—and to be twice disappointed. The third morning he saw the gown the letter described, and lifted his hat with the grace that is only his to a group of women in which there were two Americans at least.

The P. S. in the letter added that the writer's cousin is engaged to marry a "dear personal friend of the king."

LEADS CHICAGO IN DIVORCES.

Separations in Minneapolis More Numerous, According to Population.

Minneapolis, Minn.—With a population one-tenth as large as Chicago, it is estimated Minneapolis has granted in the last 21 years one-eighth as many divorces as Chicago. The exact figures, as near as can be placed are: Chicago, 40,000; Minneapolis, 5,000. Such is the estimate of Clifford Jerome, who is the government's representative in this city securing statistics as to the number of divorces granted during the last 20 years.

"One peculiar thing," he said, "about the work here is that there are five grounds on which one may secure a divorce, while in Washington or anywhere in the District of Columbia there is only one—infidelity. It is therefore five times easier to secure a separation in this state than in Washington."

A census of divorce cases and matter pertaining to them is in progress all over the country, but started only this week in Minneapolis.

INEBRIETY A DEFINITE DISEASE.

Toronto, Ont.—That the use of alcohol is in most cases a symptom of some disorder and not a cause was the theory advanced by Dr. T. D. Crothers, superintendent of the Walnut Lodge hospital of Hartford, Conn., in a paper on "The Insanity of Inebriety," read before the British Medical association.

"The term 'inebriety,'" declared Dr. Crothers, "describes a condition which calls for alcohol for its anesthetic effect, and in reality means a disease or disorder of the brain, for which alcohol is a most grateful remedy."

REPORT

We left Buchanan for Ashland August 21st and were met at our destination by the noble and generous-hearted people of that place, where we were highly entertained. Catlettburg and Ashland united in entertaining the delegates.

The Convention was held in the Auditorium at beautiful Cliffside Park. A more ideal spot could not have been chosen. All lovers of nature could not fail to appreciate its beauty.

Every session of the Convention was very interesting and inspiring. Each speaker discussed his subject with fervor and ability. The increase of interest and enthusiasm last year was greater than ever before.

The Convention was a decided success both spiritually and financially.

The enrollment was 423, representing 49 counties, and seven states, 13 from our sister states, 10 of the evangelistic denominations of the state were present.

Increase of S. S. work in 1905, 15,000 District, County and State Conventions were held. More counties were organized this year than ever before.

Increase of organized counties 34 per cent since last year in Kentucky. All counties being organized with the exception of nine. Kentucky stands fifth in number as a banner state.

County officers and workers should certainly feel proud of the increase in Sunday School work. This increase is not only in Kentucky, but all over this broad universe of ours. The spirit seems contagious.

In listening to the many discourses in this convention none found its way more rapidly to our hearts than the Home Department Work. "Home to Home Visitation," we consider one of the most vital points in S. S. work. Every community should have a Home Department in connection with the Sunday School. In less than a year 4,000 counties were canvassed. Over 6,000 people were visited. This gives you some idea of the growth and increase of Home Department Work.

Sunday School workers, boys and girls, one and all, stop one minute and think, "what are you doing for Jesus today?"

Among the State workers we were proud to have with us our devoted Secretary, Mr. E. A. Fox, of Louisville who is always full of enthusiasm and congeniality, never failing to win the hearts of all.

Dr. Hamill, of Nashville, Tenn., that world wide-awake S. S. worker, his eloquent voice and power stirred the hearts of the whole convention. We wish to mention that he is devoting his life to S. S. work. Long after this noble man has ceased to exist his memory will linger with us.

Mr. W. E. Pease, of Chicago, a very enthusiastic member had his audience in tears at one minute and the next in laughter.

We must not forget Miss Frazier, Pres. of our State Primary Union, of Louisville, Ky., whose heart to heart talks told in that sweet childish way of hers, readily found its way to the hearts of all christian workers, who by her wonderful eloquence and power holds her audience spell-bound.

We wish to call special attention to the large amount of work done by our field workers during the past year. W. J. Vaughan, P. P. Green and Mr. Gebauer.

W. J. Vaughan, our worthy Secretary, too well known for comment, needs the list. County workers should be very proud of Mr. Vaughan, for the grand and noble work he has done for them in the many years he has been our secretary, and is still working. A more efficient worker could not have been found. The State workers fully appreciate him.

Help is what we must have. Oh, for more christian workers like the noble band that addressed us at our Convention. Sunday School workers, boys and girls, Jesus wants you every one.

There is much we can do if we work with a will. No time to be wasted today.

"The Master is ready our labors to bless."

And wages He offers to pay.

And now as I am leaving you I must say, Christian workers press onward day by day and at last the goal, the pearl of great price, will be reached, a glorious victory will be gained and God will be the victor.

MOST A SURE THING BET.

Enthusiasm for Good Roads Cost Kansas Mule Buyer Quite a Neat Sum.

Drury Field, of Richards, is a mule buyer and an enthusiast on good roads. He was in Kansas on a mule-buying trip, when he stopped at a small town west of Fort Scott. A veterinary was preparing a hot application for a horse with a sprained leg when Mr. Field approached the livery stable. A kettle with the water heating in it stood near and men were gathered about discussing how hot the water should be when applied to the horse's leg. They asked Drury Field's opinion. Mr. Field said it should be boiling. "But," said the doctor, "the horse never could stand having his foot put in a bucket of boiling water; it would cook the flesh from the bone." "Not at all," said Drury. "I have held my foot in boiling water for five minutes, many a time and can do it again." "I'll bet you $50 you can't do it," said the doctor, with thoughts of easy money drifting through his brain. "I'll take the bet," said Drury, with a merry twinkle in his eye; "get 'er to bilin'." The mule driver has an artificial foot which he intended to put in the hot water when it should be ready. Meanwhile the subject of good roads came up, and when the tub of boiling water was ready the mule buyer, excited by the argument, absent-mindedly put the wrong foot in the liquid, according to the statement of the Richards program, and thereby lost what looked like a bet on a lead pipe cinch.—Kansas City Times.

WAS NOT TO BE BLUFFED.

Triumphant Argument of Fearless Man That Won Wager He Had Made.

A man who was noted for his fearlessness once made a bet that he would at midnight enter a certain vault reputed to be haunted; and, as a proof of his having been there, he agreed to bring away a human skull from a heap of human bones lying there. On the night in question three of his comrades had already concealed themselves there, thinking to baffle him in carrying out his purpose. However, just on the stroke of midnight, he descended the vault steps, unlocked the door, and with the aid of a lantern groped his way to the heap of bones, and picked up a skull, when a gruff voice said: "That's my head!" He laid it down and picked up another, when the same voice again said: "That's my head!" "Nonsense, man! You are a blooming idiot. You never had two heads!" came the unexpected reply as he strode off in triumph with his prize.—N. Y. Weekly.

Romance of M.S. There has been handed to the Edinburgh Advocates' library a most interesting and valuable MS. book recently found in the sale of the New College library. It is entitled "A Perfect Inventor of all the Plots and Devices Given to the Kings and Queens in Scotland since the Days of James I to the Reign of King James VI. with Additions, Edinburgh, written 12 Novr. by R. M." As the book has conclusive marks of having belonged to the Advocates' library, inquiry was made to ascertain if any right could be thrown on when and how the MS book had entered the New College library. The former librarian of the New College reported that he was not able to give any information, and had not in fact been aware that the book was in the library. Probably, therefore, the mystery of its passage from the one library to the other will never be cleared up, but if it could be another chapter would not doubt have to be added to the romance of missing MSS. The MS is of the highest interest for Scottish history.—Dundee Advertiser.

College Students as "Thinkers." It is important for college teachers to promote the pursuit of the part of their students of such subjects as in their inherent character demand thinking and also to promote such a pursuit of these subjects as does promote thinking. Mathematics is a subject which demands thinking. It is thinking; it is nothing else. History may be presented as a matter of acquisition; it also may be presented as a matter of weighing evidence as a study of cause and effect. Economics is a subject which specially offers opportunities for such study and development. Its phenomena are complex and the causes which prevail in the field are often obscure. These studies and similar ones offer a special advantage in creating and nourishing the power of thinking.—North American Review.

Believes in the Newspapers. "I believe in the newspapers," says Mr. Alexander the sinking evangelist. "To illustrate their carrying power, let me tell a story: A newspaper, published in England one day carried in its columns a sermon by the late Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon. That newspaper found its way to Australia, and eventually was part of a bundle that was thrown up a counter of a store to wrap up with. In course of time it opened and inclosed some articles were sent to the house of a ungodly man. He unwrapped the papers and as he did so the head of the demon struck his eye. The read it became thoughtful, read it again it converted him, and he became an earnest and devout Christian."—

JUSTICE TO THE CHILDREN

Parents Make Great Mistake in Refusing to Listen to Infantile Grievances.

A mother's magazine calls attention to the fact that the old adage, "Children should be seen and not heard," has little place in the modern systems of child training, and says it is quite right that it is so, especially in the case of the child with a grievance. Children, with all their chattering, are strongly inarticulate when it is a matter of explaining their feelings, and a child may suffer more than the adults around it over dream over some injustice, real or fancied, which it would probably have difficulty in putting into words. If the parents are continually telling it to "hush up," and "Keep still, now!" there is every chance of developing a fairly sulky youngster in time. In one New York home, where the father takes an active part in the training of the children, as few fathers do in this country, unfortunately, no dispute among the children and no grievance of any one of them pass unnoticed, especially if the father is around. No matter what he may be doing, he drops it and instantly opens a kind of informal children's court, settling at the bottom of the trouble by the gentlest of questioning. This takes some of his time, of course, but to those children their father is the ideal of justice, a confidant who never fails them.

WAYS OF THE AFRICAN LION

Lions are increasing in number throughout the district, and, I believe, in all Angola, though they are still not so common as leopards. Certainly they watch the road for dinner, and all the way from Benguela to Bihe you have a good chance of hearing them purring about your wagon any night. Sometimes then you may find a certain satisfaction in reflecting that you are inside the wagon and that 20 oxen or more are sleeping around you, tied to their yokes. An ox is a better meal than a man, but to men as well as to oxen the lion are becoming more dangerous as the wilder game grows scarcer. A native, from the wagon which crossed the Cuando just after midn, was going down for water in the evening, when a lion sprang on him and split the petroleum can with his claw. The boy had the sense to beat his cup hard against the tin, and the monarch of the forest was so disgusted at the noise that he withdrew; but few boys are so quick, and many are killed, especially in the mountain zone about 100 miles from the coast.—H. W. Nevins, in Harper's Magazine.

Largest Leaf in the World.

The plant which has this most remarkable leaf is named after Queen Victoria. It was the tribute of a British traveler in a faraway land when he discovered the unusual growth. The leaves were more than five feet in diameter, and around it extended a rim about three to five inches high. When it first opens the flower is white, with pink in the middle, which spreads over the whole flower the more it advances in age, and it is generally found the next day of a pink color. As if to enhance its beauty it is sweet scented, like others of the tribe, it possesses a fleshy disk, and petals and stamens pass gradually into each other, and many petaloid leaves may be observed. "We met them afterward frequently," says an explorer, "and the higher we advanced the more gigantic they became; we measured a leaf, which was six feet five inches in diameter, its rim five and a half inches high, and the flower across 15 inches."

Exercise for Business Men.

The average city business man without physical impediments to fight against can probably get along successfully on such an exercise schedule as the following: 1. Five minutes each day of purely muscular exercise, such as can be taken perfectly well in one's room without any special apparatus. 2. Short intervals during the day of fresh air, brisk walking, deep breathing. This can all be secured in the regular order of the day's business. A man can easily spend as much as half an hour walking out of doors every day. This is for heart, lungs and digestion. 3. The reservation of at least one day a week for rest and recreation, for being out of doors, for playing games, etc. This is an essential. This is for both body and mind. A man who thinks he can get along without at least one vacation time a week simply proves his ignorance.—World's Work.

A Liberal View.

It is a well-known fact that parents occasionally get from the conversation of their offspring food for consideration—even suggestions for the revision of pet delusions. Mrs. Brackett had issued stern orders to Reginald that he must not under any circumstances go over again to play with the Martin boys, lest he be corrupted. "Aw, mamma!" protested Reginald, "I like 'em, an' I don't learn anything bad from 'em." "Well, I have told you you must not play with the Martin boys. I won't have you with them. I don't believe they are good boys!" "Now, see here, mamma," cried the youngster, with noble candor, "mehy I s'n't so awful good myself!"—Youth's Companion.

SCENTS BURIED TREASURE.

Man Finds Mark of Vessel That May Have Held Gold.

Fort Worth, Tex.—While looking over his pasture in Reed county Mr. Dillard, who lives near Thorp Springs, was attracted by a mound of fresh earth. Upon investigation it was discovered that a hole had been dug and at the bottom was the imprint of some kind of a vessel that had been removed.

The place is particularly marked, the excavation being in the center of four roughly hewn stones, set in a square and sunk almost out of sight in the earth. A short distance from this square is another stone with a hatchet sketched on its surface, the edge of the hatchet blade pointing directly to the place where the excavation was made.

Mr. Dillard says he had often noticed the stones, but supposed they were simply an old landmark. The supposition is that the vessel contained money and the find may be connected with an old story that has been told in that section ever since it was first settled.

This story is that in the country between Comanche peak and Robinson creek a large quantity of gold had been buried by parties who on their return from the goldfields of California were attacked and killed by the Indians then infesting the country.

MONOPOLIES HIT BY DECISION.

Judge at Milwaukee Finds for Case Company in "Stacker" Suit.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Judge Seaman administered a blow to monopolies in the restraint of trade in his decision the other day in favor of the J. I. Case company in the "wind stacker" case. The suit was brought by the Indiana Manufacturing company to recover royalties on a patent stacker. All thrashing machine makers have been compelled to pay royalties to the Indiana concern, which owns 200 patents. The Case company some time ago invented a stacker of its own and declined to continue the royalties. Judge Seaman, in his decision, confined himself to the claim that the contract with the Indiana concern was in violation of the Sherman law. He held that the grant of a patent created a lawful monopoly, and continued: "Nevertheless, I am of the opinion that the monopoly thus secured, to the immense from the anti-trust act, must be referable solely to the invention under the patent, and that a combination of licensees formed thereunder may create a monopoly which exceeds the legitimate scope of the patent privilege."

LOT OWNERS ARE DEEDLESS.

Millionaire Who Kept Accounts in Head Leaves Queer Tangle.

Webster City, Ia.—Since the death of George Wells, the eccentric Iowa millionaire, at his home in Grundy Center it develops that many of the business houses at Wellsburg, the thriving German town in Grundy county named after the millionaire, are built on lots for which the owners have no deeds except that which comes from verbal agreement and the fact of occupancy in peaceful possession for a number of years.

It appears that Mr. Wells had a great habit of deferring action in many of his deals, trades and transactions, that he disposed of lots, gave the buyer possession and stated that he would make a deed some day, being too busy to attend to the trivial work of executing the deed.

Mr. Wells carried his books in his head so to speak, and many of his old-time friends took his word for many things, expecting, of course, to receive the deed in time, but realizing after the old man's death that they had no title to their property. A number of legal actions will be the outcome of the matter.

DETROIT HAS ARMLESS DOG.

Canine Freak Looks and Acts More Like a Kangaroo.

Detroit, Mich.—Mrs. Ettie Rowe, who lives on Randolph street, has a curiosity in the shape of an "armless" dog. Gertie, as the dog is named, although Mrs. Rowe generally calls her "Baby," is a little more than two years old, and is one of litter of five, two of which were born with no fore legs. The mate died of distemper in her youthful days, but Gertie is as healthy as any dog can be and more playful than most of the canine species. She is continually on the romp, hopping around on her hind legs like a kangaroo. When she is in a real big hurry she tries to run like the other dogs, and goes bumping along on her hind legs and breast in a most comical manner.

Gertie's mother was a pup, and her sire a terrier, but the terrier predominates in her disposition as well as her appearance. She was exhibited last fall at the Fenton and Pontiac fairs, and brought her owner a clear $250. She is said to be the only freak of the kind in the country.

Kansas Town to Be Moved.

Topeka, Kan.—Ora J. Gould, founder of Englewood, Ohio, has begun the work of moving the town of Englewood, Clark county, one mile south of its present location. The Kansas town is in the center of Gould's 21,000-acre ranch and the quarter section on which it is located has a clouded title. It has a population of 450, and the new site of 340 acres is a gift of Mr. Gould, whose home is at Burlington, Iowa.

Farmers and Industrial Institute.

Agricultural Commissioner Hubert Vreeland announces schedule of Farmers' and Industrial Institutes to be held in each county of Kentucky between Sept. 21 and December 20, and election of two members of State Board of Agriculture and Immigration.

In addition to the regular schedule special institute meetings have been arranged by the Commissioner. One of these will be held in Paducah in October, and another in Lexington the latter part of the month, in conjunction with the meeting of the Kentucky State Grange. Still another will be held at Maysville during the annual Tobacco Fair of Northeastern Kentucky, and in the counties of Jefferson, Henry, Franklin and Shelby, on dates not yet announced.

Under the provision of the new agricultural statute each of the county institutes held will elect one of its delegates to a State Industrial Institution, to be held at Frankfort or some other convenient place between the first day of January and the first day of March next year. At this State meeting each county shall have one vote, and at this meeting there will be elected two members, from Appellate districts, of the State Board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration for a period of four years, to fill vacancies occurring by the expiration of the terms of two of the members appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of the legislative act.

For convenience the commissioner has divided the state into four Farmers' institute districts, to be known as Western Institute District, Central Institute District, Eastern Institute District, first division, and Eastern Institute District, second division. The meetings will open in the several districts simultaneously.

Given up to Die.

It. Spiegel, 1201, N. Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections, which caused me much pain and worry. I lost fl and was all run down, and a year ago I had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians but they did me no good and I was given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured. Sold by A. M. Hughes, druggist."

The Louisa National Bank.

REUNION

Of Confederate Soldiers at Wayne on Sept. 14-15.

There are many old Confederates, their wives, widows and children in this part of Kentucky and in West Virginia adjacent, who will read with pleasure the following notice and programme. No Camp has ever been organized in Wayne county, W. Va., and Wayne is about the center for a large number of ex-Confederates.

Col. M. J. Ferguson, an honored citizen of this town at the time of his death, raised and was the Col. of the 16th Regiment, Va. Cavalry.

A few more years and there will be none of the old soldiers to meet, and their common memories and communications, as tried brave sons of the South, makes it meet that they should a few more times in congregated numbers greet each other and revive the memories of the past. They are all loyal citizens, and their gathering betokens no ill to our common country.

There is no doubt that, weather permitting, the Reunion will be largely attended, and that the occasion will be an interesting one. It is understood that a Camp will be formed and that the Reunion will hereafter be held regularly. It is well, for ere long it will be said of these veterans that

"The muffled drum's sad roll has beat The soldier's last tattoo. No more on life's parade shall meet The brave and chosen few."

"On Fame's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread, And Glory guards with solemn round The hallowed of the dead."

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Nathan Jude, of Martin county, sent up in June, 1901, for eight years for manslaughter has been paroled.

Mrs. Earles, mother of Dan Earles, who lives in Floyd county, Ky., and is well known in this county, died at her home in Ironton, Ohio, last Wednesday, aged 103 years, 10 months and 17 days.

Blufffield, W. Va., Sept. 8.—An explosion today at the Dupont Powder Works at Nitmours, Va., eight miles west of here killed C. D. Clark and fatally injured four others. The cause of the explosion was not made known.

Mingo Republican.—Last night the yards at this place was the scene of another accident. Paris Doleman, a colored man, and well thought of, who has been netting as night switchman for some time, had both legs crushed into a shapeless mass and suffered other injuries.

There is an epidemic of typhoid fever at Pollard that is assuming alarming proportions. One physician reports eight cases, while nearly all of the local doctors have patients under their care.—Ind

Point Pleasant, W. Va. Sept. 7.—Fred Boss, proprietor of the Ferry Boat here, was murdered at 1 o'clock today. The murderer, said to be a man named Clark, escaped.

Boss was standing near his boat at the landing, when Clark, it is alleged, seized him about the shoulders with one arm and with the free hand drew a knife across the terrors throat. Deliberately dropping the body, the murderer walked up a hill and was lost to view.

The boat's engineer, a cripple, was so shocked by the murder that he was unable to make an outcry. Officers are now searching for Clark.

It was at 1 o'clock Thursday evening that the telephone brought the sad news to the Leader office that the little daughter of Editor Thomas H. Garner had been electrocuted at his residence on Highland avenue, Blufffield.

The little girl was playing on the second story portico alone, and in her childish innocence touched a live electric wire while standing on the tin covering of the floor, thus completing the circuit, and causing almost instant death. The wire was only about two feet from the porch and the current was so strong that she was terribly burned.

Both Mr and Mrs Garner were at the Leader office at the time and in spite of their haste in reaching home, they found the little one cold in death.

This is a sad blow to the parents, as this little girl, who was only six years old, was their pride and because of her bright and lovable disposition was a general favorite with all who knew her.

Virginia, the little four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lambert, of Whites Creek, died August 29, 1906, of diphtheria.

The body was buried Saturday in the Cypress cemetery at Whites Creek. Rev. R. T. Billups, pastor of the Ceredo Baptist church, conducted the funeral.

The Wayne Masonic Lodge will hold a reunion and love feast here on the 29th of September, to which all Masons, their families and friends, and all those who have been Masons but are under suspension for non-payment of dues, are cordially invited and requested to attend. Not only the Masons of that lodge but members of the other lodges throughout the county are invited to come and participate in the days enjoyment. Some good speakers will be present to live up the enthusiasm, and dinner will be served on the ground.

Huntington, W. Va. Sept. 9.—Sanford Ferguson, a young clerk of this city, was found at the foot of a flight of stairs at the Banner building at 4 o'clock this morning with his neck broken. The supposition is that he had fallen down stairs but the detectives are at work on the case as some allege that foul play figured in the tragedy.

Dr. W. F. Sturgell had a close call for his life last Monday. Just as he was leaving his office at noon, on the day named above, the Dr. concluded he would take a dose of calomel, but by mistake he took thutone of belladonna, a deadly poison. After discovering his mistake immediately after having swallowed it, he went to Dr. Bruns' office and Dr. Shirley was summoned. The physicians Dr. Bruns and Shirley went to work and by heroic efforts pumped the poison from the stomach and thereby saved the life of a very useful and popular man. Had medical aid not been at hand death would have resulted in a very short time, but as it was the genial physician was walking around in a few hours after the accident apparently as if nothing had happened.—Ceredo Advance

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—Closely guarded by two United States Marshals, Robert Messer, fifty-two, a typical Kentucky mountaineer, arrived in St. Louis from Okla., yesterday en route to "Pittsburg," Ky., to answer the charge of murder. He was kept in jail until last night when he and the Marshals boarded a train.

Messer was captured after a pursuit from Kentucky to Oklahoma. So dangerous was he supposed to be that before attempting to arrest him, the Marshals organized a posse, composed of Osage, Okla., police and ranchmen and surrounded the cabin where Messer was hiding.

One of the Marshals with Messer is John A. Abernathy, whom President Roosevelt appointed after seeing him catch a coyote with his bare hands.

Wednesday evening at Cityfield a pleasant party composed of Mrs. Margaret Baker, daughters, Naomi and Jennie, Miss Julia Fry and Edgar Baker, of Central City, Misses Edith and Her at the Casino, when she tripped and up by a very painful accident, happening to Miss Naomi Baker, one of the most attractive members of the crowd. Miss Baker was roller skating at the Casino, when she tripped and fell, sustaining a very badly fractured wrist. Mrs. Baker and Miss Edith Maren brought Miss Baker to the home of their cousin, Mrs. T. D. Maren, in Catlettsburg, where Dr. J. D. Williams was called. The injury was of such a serious nature that Dr. Williams thought it necessary to Miss Baker to take an anesthetic before the bones could be replaced, so she decided to wait until reaching home to have the operation performed, when her father, Dr. Baker, would assist the attending physician. The fracture will be difficult to treat, as Miss Baker's wrist had been broken once before in the same place. Her many friends in this city regret to hear of this accident.
